YUBY DAM U. S. A.

Bad Conditions for the Farmers.

Roses red and violets blue, cough up old farmer your debts are due and taxes too.

That farmer sold the harvests, from his fields and coughed and coughed, till he coughed up his heels.

But with his mightiest and deepest snort, he still fell short and could not pay, and he said, "O my how am I to get by."

These beautiful lines above were composed and written by myself, are very appropriate to the farmer of Yuby Dam, who, are in such a deplorable condition at the present time.

The farmers of Yuby Dam never has had much good time. His life never has been one glad sweet song. He never has been allowed to run and romp and have his fun like other boys. He has always been poor. No one ever excused him of having the touch of King Midas, and he is now poor indeed.

For this long fearful year he has held no trumps and has played a losing game. What he had to sell. His kine and sheep and goats and swine, oats and wheat have been so cheap, and what he has had to buy has been so high up a tree that he has no guilders left at all with which to pay his way.

Ever and anon, I hear his pale thin voice upon my streets, as he speaks and says, "oh gee! what is to become of me."

Some of them pray to live to see a better day. Some seem to think to "cuss" is the better way.

Many have taken the bankrupt law to keep from coming up to "law." Some have taken a land loan from the land loan joys, to stand off the devil a few more days. Some have lost all hope and have left at the end of the rope. Some ride around behind their Janes and others to the Zigzag Hollow have gone to try to improve their unfortunate lots, by making the famous knock-out days.

And so it goes, I very much fear that the farmer is going to be destroyed, and when he is destroyed the "goose" is certainly gone that laid the golden egg.

May the good Lord have mercy on the poor farmer of Yuby Dam in my prayers.

The Mayor of Yuby Dam.

P. S. When Alf Taylor and old "Limber" come butting and buzzing around in the political circles of Yuby Dam again this fall, they will have to explain why the tax still on tiptoe stands upon the lands, after they promised so faithfully to bring it down. Alf and old "Limber" will not get a "blooming vote" in Yuby Dam this time, unless my towns becomes non compes meutis. A thousand leagues off their tails. Get your dictionary thehead. Good bye and clipping from Whizzer. Again I say goodbye.

Maryville College.

Maryville, College, Mar. 12th.

Dear Sentinel:

I have noticed Mr. Flatt's interesting letters from M. T. N., and I also want to give my friends at home an inside view of College life at this place.

There are at least four great factors that go to make a great college or school, namely: the principles for which it stands; opportunities it offers in developing a literary view of life; it's athletics, and last, but by no means the least of the fundamental factors, is the social life.

In 1819 Maryville College was founded on the principles of Christianity, and on which it has grown and is still standing. The College is a Presbyterian institution, but all the Protestant churches practically are represented here. As our beloved President has said "we are all children of the same family, striving for the same goal."

The idea that some people have that this college is merely a ministerial and missionary school is absurd, for men and women representing practically all "walks" of life, are on the Hill.

The second great principle, Literature, is offered to men and women, not only through able instructors, but also through the Fonencies, Oratorical Contests and the Societies. The four senior societies for college students only, are, Athenian, Alpha Sigma, Theta Epsilon and Bionian, and the Junior order of the same names for the preparatory department.

Our girls opened the debating season last Monday evening with a duel with Tusculum College, resulting in a victory for Maryville. On tomorrow evening, Monday, our boys have a duel debate with Roanoke College in West Virginia.

The Oratoricals have promises of being good aid, adding more laurels to our College.

The Societies have been doing excellent work this year, and especially so, the second semester. The four "Mid-winters" given by the societies, equaled any of the Lyceum numbers which have been presented here.

The training that any one gets in the Societies and the altruistic spirit of brotherhood that is cultivated, that alone, will pay any boy or girl double for his or her time spent in college, here or in any sister institution.

Recently the College has chartered the Pi Kappa Delta, an Honorary Fraternity, only those who have represented the College in the Inter-collegiate Fonencies are eligible for membership. This will also encourage men and women to put forth greater efforts in literature and will also be a great stimulant to other places of literary life on the Hill.

As the curriculum of a college student somewhat limits him to his studies and magnetic power of social life, I shall have to take up my last two points, Athletics and Social Life, later.

Sincerely yours,
Alvis A. Johnson.

The Extension Service of the University of Tennessee is now preparing a publication on the subject which will be ready for distribution to farmers of the state in the near future.

SEVEN DIE IN A. B. & A. WRECK

COACH FALLS FIFTY FEET FROM TRESTLE INTO CAMP CREEK.

SIXTEEN OTHERS INJURED

Broken Wheel Is Given As Cause of Derailment—Approximately Thirty Passengers Were in Car.—Met Instant Death.

Atlanta, Ga.—Seven persons were killed and 16 injured when a passenger coach of an Atlanta, Birmingham & Atlantic train en route to Fitzgerald was derailed 15 miles from Atlanta and sent crashing into Camp creek, 50 feet below.

Approximately 30 persons were in the coach, the last of the train, when a wheel on the first truck burst, sending the car hurtling over a hundred yards of track before the trestle was reached and almost crossed, when it suddenly turned over. The coach tore away from the preceding car as it lunged into space and was almost completely demolished when it fell into the shallow creek.

The seven persons killed, six men and one woman, met instant death, their bodies being badly mutilated. Several of the injured are not expected to live. Scores of other passengers and persons from nearby towns, spurred by the cries of the injured, worked in the wreckage, releasing those imprisoned and removing the dead. Ambulances and physicians were rushed from Atlanta, and the injured and dead removed to hospitals and morgues here.
